Recreation Commission Seeks $1,000 Grant

Newmarket—A grant of $1,000 will be sought from the Newmarket town council by the recreation commission in 1948 as the result of a discussion of the commission's budget at a recent meeting. A tentative budget had been submitted to the meeting by E. J. Gould Jr. The matter of free skating was considered, and Chairman R. C. Morrison reported that this was in the hands of the school boards this year.

All accounts for the Halloween party, totalling $262.66, were approved by J. B. Walker, chairman of the committee, and a motion to pay them was passed. A motion was also passed to write to local organizations and to the industries to request aid in defraying the expenses of the party. The purchase of a typewriter for the use of the commission was also approved. Mr. Gould reported that the choral group is progressing favorably. The financial statement was received from the tennis club.

population in the future," said Mr. Porter. Quoting figures from the Food and Agriculture Organization of the U.N.O., he said that if the world is to have an adequate diet by 1960, there will have to be an increase of 21 percent in cereals, 12 percent in sugar, 46 percent in meat, 100 percent in milk. In spite of the war, he said, there are 175,000 more people in the world now than before it started. What is needed, he said, is more acreage, improved agriculture, mechanization and scientific methods.

He said that acreage can be increased "if we go into the southern hemisphere in certain places in Africa and South America. There are great areas where there is a red type of soil that can be used. Using commercial fertilizers liberally, and these new soils the great increases can be taken care of, except in milk."

To illustrate the importance of food in peace, he said that the food area that the Russians occupy in Germany is necessary for the three zones and if the western powers can't agree with the U.S.S.R., the others will be deprived. A few extra calories per person can make a big difference in European politics, he said, and food has a tremendous importance to the Marshall Plan.

"There is a war on between ideologies," said Mr. Porter. "and it is a battle of the intellect. We must not have a lack of earnestness and interest on the part of individuals."

Mr. Porter, whose topic was Food, Peace and Politics, said that "we in Canada treat the matter of food casually." A 12-million population lives off 80 million acres here which means that one person lives off nearly seven acres, he said. Population is increasing and so is the production and surplus but it is a different matter in England.

"It was once said that the population in the world would increase too rapidly for food production to keep up to it and we used to laugh at this statement when they were burning coffee in Brazil and so on, but now it looks serious," said Mr. Porter. He referred to the "freedom from want" phrase from the Atlantic Charter, which, he said, is not working out so well now.

"There will be terrific increases in production required to take care of the normal increase in

Gives "Demonstration Of Craft Work"

Newmarket — The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Association of Trinity United church was held on Wednesday night, Dec. 3, in the Sunday-school room.
The guest speaker was Miss Sarah Jones who gave a demonstration of her work. Highlights of the display were needle work, cut-out felt work, leather tooling and weaving on various types of looms.
Miss Jones has recently completed a course in handicrafts at Macdonald College. She is a field assistant and demonstrator for the Women's Institute and travels throughout the province teaching handicrafts. Miss Jones stated that anyone wanting information on handicrafts has access to the library of the Women's Institute branch of the department of agriculture at Toronto.
Two movie shorts were shown on the new movie projector — one a musical short and the other, "Tales from the Vienna Woods." About 15 new members attended this meeting. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Hockey Briefs
By George Haskett, Jr.

The long awaited news is out at last. The O.H.A. has released their groupings for the coming season. Newmarket Canadian Hoffman is grouped this year with Barrie and Orillia, both senior B clubs, and with Midland and Collingwood, the latter pair being intermediate A teams. Hoffman's is also intermediate A. The proposed grouping comes as no surprise to the Hoffman executive as they more or less expected, since they were moved up into intermediate A category, to be put in with a northern group. It is quite some time since an intermediate club from Newmarket has been sent to the north to show their stuff. It certainly will give the locals fans a chance to see some of the best teams up north.

By the way, our old friends, Markham Millionaires, will be absent from the local hockey scene as they are grouped with two Toronto senior B clubs, Toronto Diggins and Toronto Q. & L., and with Whitby Legion. Both Markham and Whitby are listed as intermediate A clubs. Likewise, Sutton Greenshirts are booked to see action against Gravenhurst, Collingwood Seconds, Penetang and Coldwater, all being on the books as intermediate B.

It might be well at this time, with the hockey season about to break on us once again in full measure, to bring you're guys and girls up to date on some of the hockey moguls of the canal-town. Suppose we get underway with our intermediate pals. This year, as mentioned previously, the club is under the sponsorship of the Canadian Hoffman Machinery Co. At the head of the organization stands Dewey Kuhns, Hoffman's general manager. Mr. Kuhns, although just breaking into Canada's national winter pastime, is getting the hang of the game fast. He is out to most of the team's work outs, travelling weekly to Barrie to view the practices, and if interest means anything will be another convert to the ice game before the season is completed. Working along side of Mr. Kuhns is Doug Campbell, plant superintendent at Hoffmans. Doug hails from Toronto, served in the R.C.A.F. and is another newcomer to the ice game but will be converted to a rabid supporter of "our gang" in no time at all. Frank Johnson, the team's treasurer, is no stranger to this district, having spent considerable time in and around Sharon and Queensville. Frank is just earning his degree in the hockey whirl. Nothing brings a frown to Frank faster than to see the broken sticks flying about. We tell him "wait until the season really gets going and there will be enough broken sticks around to keep the fires going the rest of the winter," and that really hurts. All the lads wearing the Hoffman colors will have to do to bring smiles to the above trio is to get out and bring a few victories back home.

Manager Jack "Ceegars" McDonald needs no introduction to the hockey fans of the district. No hockey cushion or softball diamond in the hub of North York would seem complete without a view of "Mac" and his famous cigars. "Ceegars" had a big hand in the hockey doings during the war years at the local camp and stayed on to manage and coach the Vets softball team and hockey team of last winter.

Father T. J. McCabe, team coach, came upon the local hockey scene last winter and was the guiding hand of the Hoffman sextet last winter. Previously he had coached Orangeville junior C team to an O.H.A. championship. Of late he has been on the sidelines with a torn ligament in his knee, suffered late in the fall while playing golf. He is back on his feet once again and is getting ready to take a hand in proceedings in the very near future. In his absence, the club has secured the services of Bill Thoms, one of our local boys who made good in a big way in the pro ranks. Bill first started on the road to fame on Fairley Lake and was stand-out with Newmarket when our local forces first started to be heard from in the hockey world. Bill played for the Hoffman crew in its first exhibition tilt and celebrated the occasion by slapping in two goals. He will be a valuable asset to the club, if he is allowed to remain when the season officially gets underway.

Johnny "The Fruit Man" Campbell is chief assistant to Father McCabe, as we have the story. Johnny first came to the front in the local hockey picture last winter as manager of the Hoffman club. He is back with Hoffman's this winter once again and has added to his duties by getting the nomination as manager of the Gapco Juniors. Johnny got his start in hockey in Hamilton, guarding the rigging for the Mountain City juniors. Johnny recently took another whirl between the pipes in a local junior practice and performed like a second Turk Broda whom, it must be said, he resembles a great deal in stature.

To complete the Hoffman executive, can't pass up our transportation expert, Johnny "Gray Couch" Hines. Johnny has a big job on hand this winter but you can bet your last buck the

'Very Good' Holstein Sets High Record

Newmarket — Jean Pabst Rag Apple, a member of the purebred Holstein herd of Charles O. Haines, Newmarket, has just completed an exceptionally large record of performance test. Starting as a five-year-old, she produced in 365 days on three times-a-day milking, 27,339 lbs. milk containing 963 lbs. fat, average test 3.52 percent butterfat. This is one of the top records completed in Canada this year.
Not only is Jean a great producer but she is also a good individual as well, having been classed as "very good" in selective registration by the official inspector of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada. "Very Good" is the second highest classification for conformation in selective registration and only animals of exceptional merit are placed in it.
Jean is sired by Deacon Rag Apple who has nine qualified R.O.P. daughters.

GLENVILLE

Miss Shirley Anning accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Luke Lyons, Newmarket, to Scarborough Beach and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Lyons.
Mr. and Mrs. Angus Morrison, New Toronto, spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Keffer.
The Glenville bazaar was a success with a good crowd in attendance. Quilts sold from $7 to $11 and other articles sold well. The annual school concert will be held in the school house on Thursday, Dec. 18.

situation is well under control. Johnny also has a big hand in the doings of the Boy Scout organization.

To hold down the training chores, Hoffman's have grabbed off two outstanding men in Pete Preston and Larry "Shep" Scheffe. Can't ever recall a Newmarket junior team of recent years on which Pete wasn't the trainer. "Shep" was trainer for last year's Vets' team and between the two, Hoffman boys don't lack for anything.

Guess that's all for this week. Will follow with thumb nail sketches of the junior, juvenile and midget executives next week. Incidentally, Newmarket Gapco's our junior C representatives, are grouped with Unionville, Stouffville and Aurora Co-ops, which makes for a nice compact group.

About 30 ladies from the Cheerio Group travelled to York County Home on Thursday evening and gave the old people a treat and presented a very fine program. They all came home feeling they had had a very fine evening with the old people who had also enjoyed it all.

COURT OF REVISION

was no agreement by the town and no breach of an agreement with anyone," Mayor Vale said. Mr. Downward said even if there had been no agreement, the $60 maximum had been "generally understood" by everyone. He asked why the four-room houses at the settlement were assessed for the same amount as the five and six-room houses, when there was a difference of as much as $1,200 in cost. B. W. Hunter said he had been under the impression that the houses were all the same and had not been aware of the difference in cost.

Reeve Evans suggested that the same principle be adopted with regard to these houses as is proposed for the rental-housing development, where the taxes will be $75, $80, and $85 for four, five and six-room houses respectively. Albert Lindenbaum said it was obvious there had been a misunderstanding between the veterans, the V.L.A., and the town. "I was told by the V.L.A. that I could purchase any lot anywhere in town, so long as my taxes did not exceed $60," he said.

Mr. Downward said that at present there are two four-room houses, two five-room houses, and four six-room houses at the settlement, and that two of the latter had cost more than the other two. He said the veterans satisfied if the town set the taxes on all of the houses at $60, for a period of 10 years.

Frank Bowser said the hypothetical figures which had been discussed with Mr. Nixon had been based on the mill rate at that time, and on the premise that all houses would be of equal value. B. W. Hunter said the difference in the values of the four and six-room houses, according to the figures of the veterans, was approximately 10 percent. He said approximately the same difference should prevail in the assessments. Mr. Bowser said it was impossible to make a blanket policy to set the taxes on all eight houses because of the variation in quality. Mayor Vale agreed. Mr. Downward suggested $60 as a maximum.

Seek Medium

"We must strike some medium," Reeve Evans said. Mayor Vale said the town could not fix the taxes. "All we can do is revise the assessments, and the taxes will then vary with the mill rate." Reeve Evans suggested that the assessments be worked out so that the taxes on the properties next year would be $75, $80, and $85 respectively, based on a mill-rate of about 45.

A motion to that effect was suggested, but Mayor Vale said it would be simpler to fix the assessments at $1,500, $1,600 and $1,700. He introduced a motion to the effect and it was seconded by Mr. Bowser and passed.

Veterans with homes in the Bowser subdivision were also dealt with in a body. Each was assessed this year for $1,900, a jump of $400 over last year. No local improvements have been installed there, and according to one veteran, four of the houses are not on a road. "We have to trespass across the properties of others to get into our homes," he said. B. W. Hunter said these houses were each on $100 lots, whereas the Settlement houses are on $200 lots. Each assessment was reduced to $1,600.

Harry Goodman's assessment of $12,800 for land and building on Davis Drive and for business tax was sustained when it was found that he was assessed at only about half of the rate of those on either side of him.

Peter Gorman's total assessment was reduced $900 when he showed that his $4,200 assessment was $1,700 more than the property's assessment under the previous owner, A. E. Jarvis.

C. H. Kerr, acting for David Williams, argued that the business tax of a garage should be based on 25 percent of the property's total assessment, rather than on 35 percent, which Mr. Hunter said had been the basis. He also argued that the building was over-assessed at $1,900. No decision was reached concerning the business tax, but the assessment of the building was sustained.

Pickering College Has Annual Candle Service

Newmarket — The Spirit of Christmas was present at Pickering College on Sunday night at the candle light service, the last chapel service of 1947 at the school. The service was opened by the entrance of the choir into a hall dimly lit by a few candles, singing "Joy to the World." The front curtain of the stage opened to reveal the Christmas Chancel, painted by Fred Hagan, while students lit the rows of central candles illuminating the whole auditorium.

Along with congregational carol singing, Mair Jackson sang the "Coventry Carol," Elizabeth Beer, "Polish Carol" and Alice Rourke, the "First Canadian Christmas Carol" and the "Little Road to Bethlehem." Three students, Ike Lanier, Douglas Ramsay, and Hugh Davidson, sang "We Three Kings of Orient Are," with the audience singing the chorus.

From the Scripture, H. M. Beer and F. D. L. Stewart read the birth of Jesus as related by both St. Matthew and St. Luke, and the headmaster, R. E. K. Rourke, gave his Christmas address, "They looked up and saw a star," in which he suggested that men, in their tremendous efforts in the world of science to gain knowledge, have overlooked the simple basic rules for living as were taught by Christ. He said at one time in the year, people all over the world share the same idea, but when Christmas is over they go back to their old way of living.

A special Christmas offering was taken for a Chapel Fund to which the students contribute through the year and the proceeds go to various charities.

Memorial To Elenor Hughes Printed By 'Little Rebel'

A photostat copy of an original memorial of Elenor Hughes and printed by the "Little Rebel," William Lyon McKenzie at York was brought to The Era and Express office by David Wilson Leppard who was 84 recently.

Mr. Leppard who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Hansel, at the north end of Main St., was the only living trustee of Zephyr United church who was there when the church was built 60 years ago. He was born in Sharon and moved to Maple Hill and then up to Scott.

The copy of the memorial was discovered in a drawer by Mrs. Hansel. It states that Elenor Hughes died on March 9, 1825, "at Gwillimburg (East), Upper Canada, aged about 74 years." She had broken away from the Society of Friends when they "ascended into rash judgments concerning religious doctrines," according to the memorial.

"She was educated among Friends, and lived a life without spot or blemish," the memorial says, "until the singular instance took place in the Society which is above mentioned." In a note at

Credits Garbage Plan Cutting Fire Hazards

Newmarket—"I would like to give much credit to the municipal garbage collection system, as it does much to eliminate fire hazards in back alleys and basements," Fire Inspector Joseph Brammer said in a report to council on Monday night. "The fire brigade has answered a total of 76 calls throughout 1947, with an estimated loss of $2,000."

Mr. Brammer said he has inspected business places, schools and churches, has had many places cleaned up, chimneys repaired, and wires changed.

Karen Ann Smockum, 18 mos. old when this picture was taken, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smockum, Keswick.

The ladies would like to modernize the church kitchen and are waiting until supplies are more plentiful.

The election of officers resulted in the following: pres., Mrs. N. Brooks; first vice-pres., Mrs. A. Harrison; second vice-pres., Mrs. Walter Rater; sec., Mrs. Reg. Willbee; treas., Mrs. H. Price; pianist, Mrs. Sinclair; assistant, Mrs. Stonehouse; devotional leader, Mrs. A. Harrison. Further committees are put in later at the January meeting.

"The doctor left the patient's bedroom and joined the anxious husband. "I don't like the way your wife looks," he announced. "Well, doctor," said the husband, "to be perfectly honest with you, I don't care much for her looks either, but she sure takes good care of me and the kids."

New faces to appear this year in the council seats are: Reeve Grover Morrison of Sutton West who won the seat on the retirement of the veteran municipal legislator, Reeve William Pugsley; Deputy-reeve Kenneth Ross who defeated Alan Shaw, former deputy; Reeve Vernon Griffin of Markham, who in his second year in municipal politics defeated the 1947 warden, Charles Hooper, in a bitter election battle; Deputy-reeve James Burke, Long Branch, Reeve Percy Hill, Richmond Hill, Deputy-reeve Allan Simpson, East York, who won over Deputy-reeve Jerry Coughlan, and a new deputy-reeve in Leaside.

John Warren, East York, held seats at 57 Adelaide St.

Make Assessment Cut Retroactive

Newmarket—The 1947 taxes of veterans living in both the Bowser subdivision and the Soldiers' Settlement will be reduced as a result of a motion passed at the meeting of the town council last night that the assessments as set by the Court of Revision of Friday night be made retroactive to apply to this year's taxes. "It is a concession to the veterans," Mayor Vale said. "All other assessments set at the court of revision will take effect next year, and will not affect this year's taxes."

PASS PARKING LAW

Newmarket—A by-law to prohibit parking on the east side of Main St. from Queen St. to Millard Ave. was given three readings at the council meeting last night, and was then held over for the approval of the department of highways.

By Their Works . . .

The teen-agers of the nation, no doubt much to their discomfort, have become a much publicized part of the population. And with that prominence, they suffer the embarrassment that attends anyone caught between two fires. If they are praised, there comes an angry protest. If they are criticized, an equally passionate rebuttal is presented.

One cause for the limelight on the bobby-soxers has been their discovery by the commercial world. The spending money in the pockets of young Canada represents a major market. An equally valid occasion has been the recognition that the problems of the adolescent are very real as well as the ensuing attempts to solve them through home, church and the school.

As for the teen-agers themselves, they seem to be weathering the storm. Those we know are the same bright kids you would hope them to be, with their faults and their virtues combined in about the same proportions as their predecessors. One thing is certain, when they want a thing badly enough, they go out and get it. In Zephyr, they wanted an open-air rink. With a little encouragement and guidance from their elders, they have succeeded in getting just that, an open-air rink.

With the memory of the disparaging statements about teen-agers made by Miss Kate Aikens in Newmarket not so long ago still fresh, the rink at Zephyr offers plenty of material for comment upon the perseverance, intelligence and ability of the teen-ager who wants something and is willing to go after it. The Zephyr rink took a lot of time and trouble but there it stands, a good example of what can be done when the teen-agers, with the support of the community, go to work.

A Chance For The West

The Russian refusal to continue trade negotiations with France has given the western democracies an excellent opportunity to bolster their prestige in Europe—if the western powers are in a position to grasp it.

France had hoped to purchase 300,000 tons of wheat from Russia. The Russian severance of the trade talks now makes the land of the Kremlin a highly improbable source of wheat. If the western powers could step in with the wheat, they would be able to strike a forceful blow against Russian influence.

To understand the significance of the Russian refusal to negotiate a trade agreement with France, one need only recall the communist-led offensives of the last two years which have kept France in a state of turmoil, and more recently, the communist-inspired strikes so wide-spread that they almost amounted to a civil insurrection. It is no coincidence that the trade talks were cancelled as the tide of strikes began to fall back before the stern resistance of Premier Robert Schuman.

The latest Soviet move makes the pattern obvious. When communist pressure within France was unable to overthrow the government, external pressure in the shape of a boycott on trade talks was applied. It has a familiar appearance, the duplication of similar Russian moves in Europe. The pattern would be changed, however, if the western powers could send the necessary grain, relieving France of its dependence upon Russia for wheat.

Self-Help, Not Government Help

The complexity of 20th century living has had a distressing by-product in the loss of individual reliance. There was a time when a man could depend upon his own efforts to feed and clothe his family, put a roof over their heads and lay aside something for his later years. Nowadays, he has to depend for the most part on others to contribute towards these highly desirable objectives.

Living has become a matter of specialization; we learn a trade to support ourselves but that skill won't buy a suit of clothes if there is a strike among tailors, produce a pound of butter if there is a strike among dairies, or even keep us alive if there is no work for us to do.

We are so involved in the efforts of others that if one part of the system that provides our food, our clothes, our home breaks down, we feel the effects immediately. Unable to depend entirely upon our own efforts to keep us alive, we have become increasingly dependent upon others until in some instances, notably in public affairs, that dependence upon others has so robbed us of initiative that we have become apathetic.

Mr. Gordon Belyea, Lions club district governor, spoke of the results of that loss of individual reliance as a tendency to make the government the receptacle of all responsibilities without the citizens assuming any themselves. He said that there was too great a belief in the value of legislation as a means to improve society. Apart from the fact that all the legislation in the world will not make the idle industrious or the wasteful thrifty, as Mr. Belyea rightly points out, in that refusal to assume responsibility there is the danger of loss of freedom.

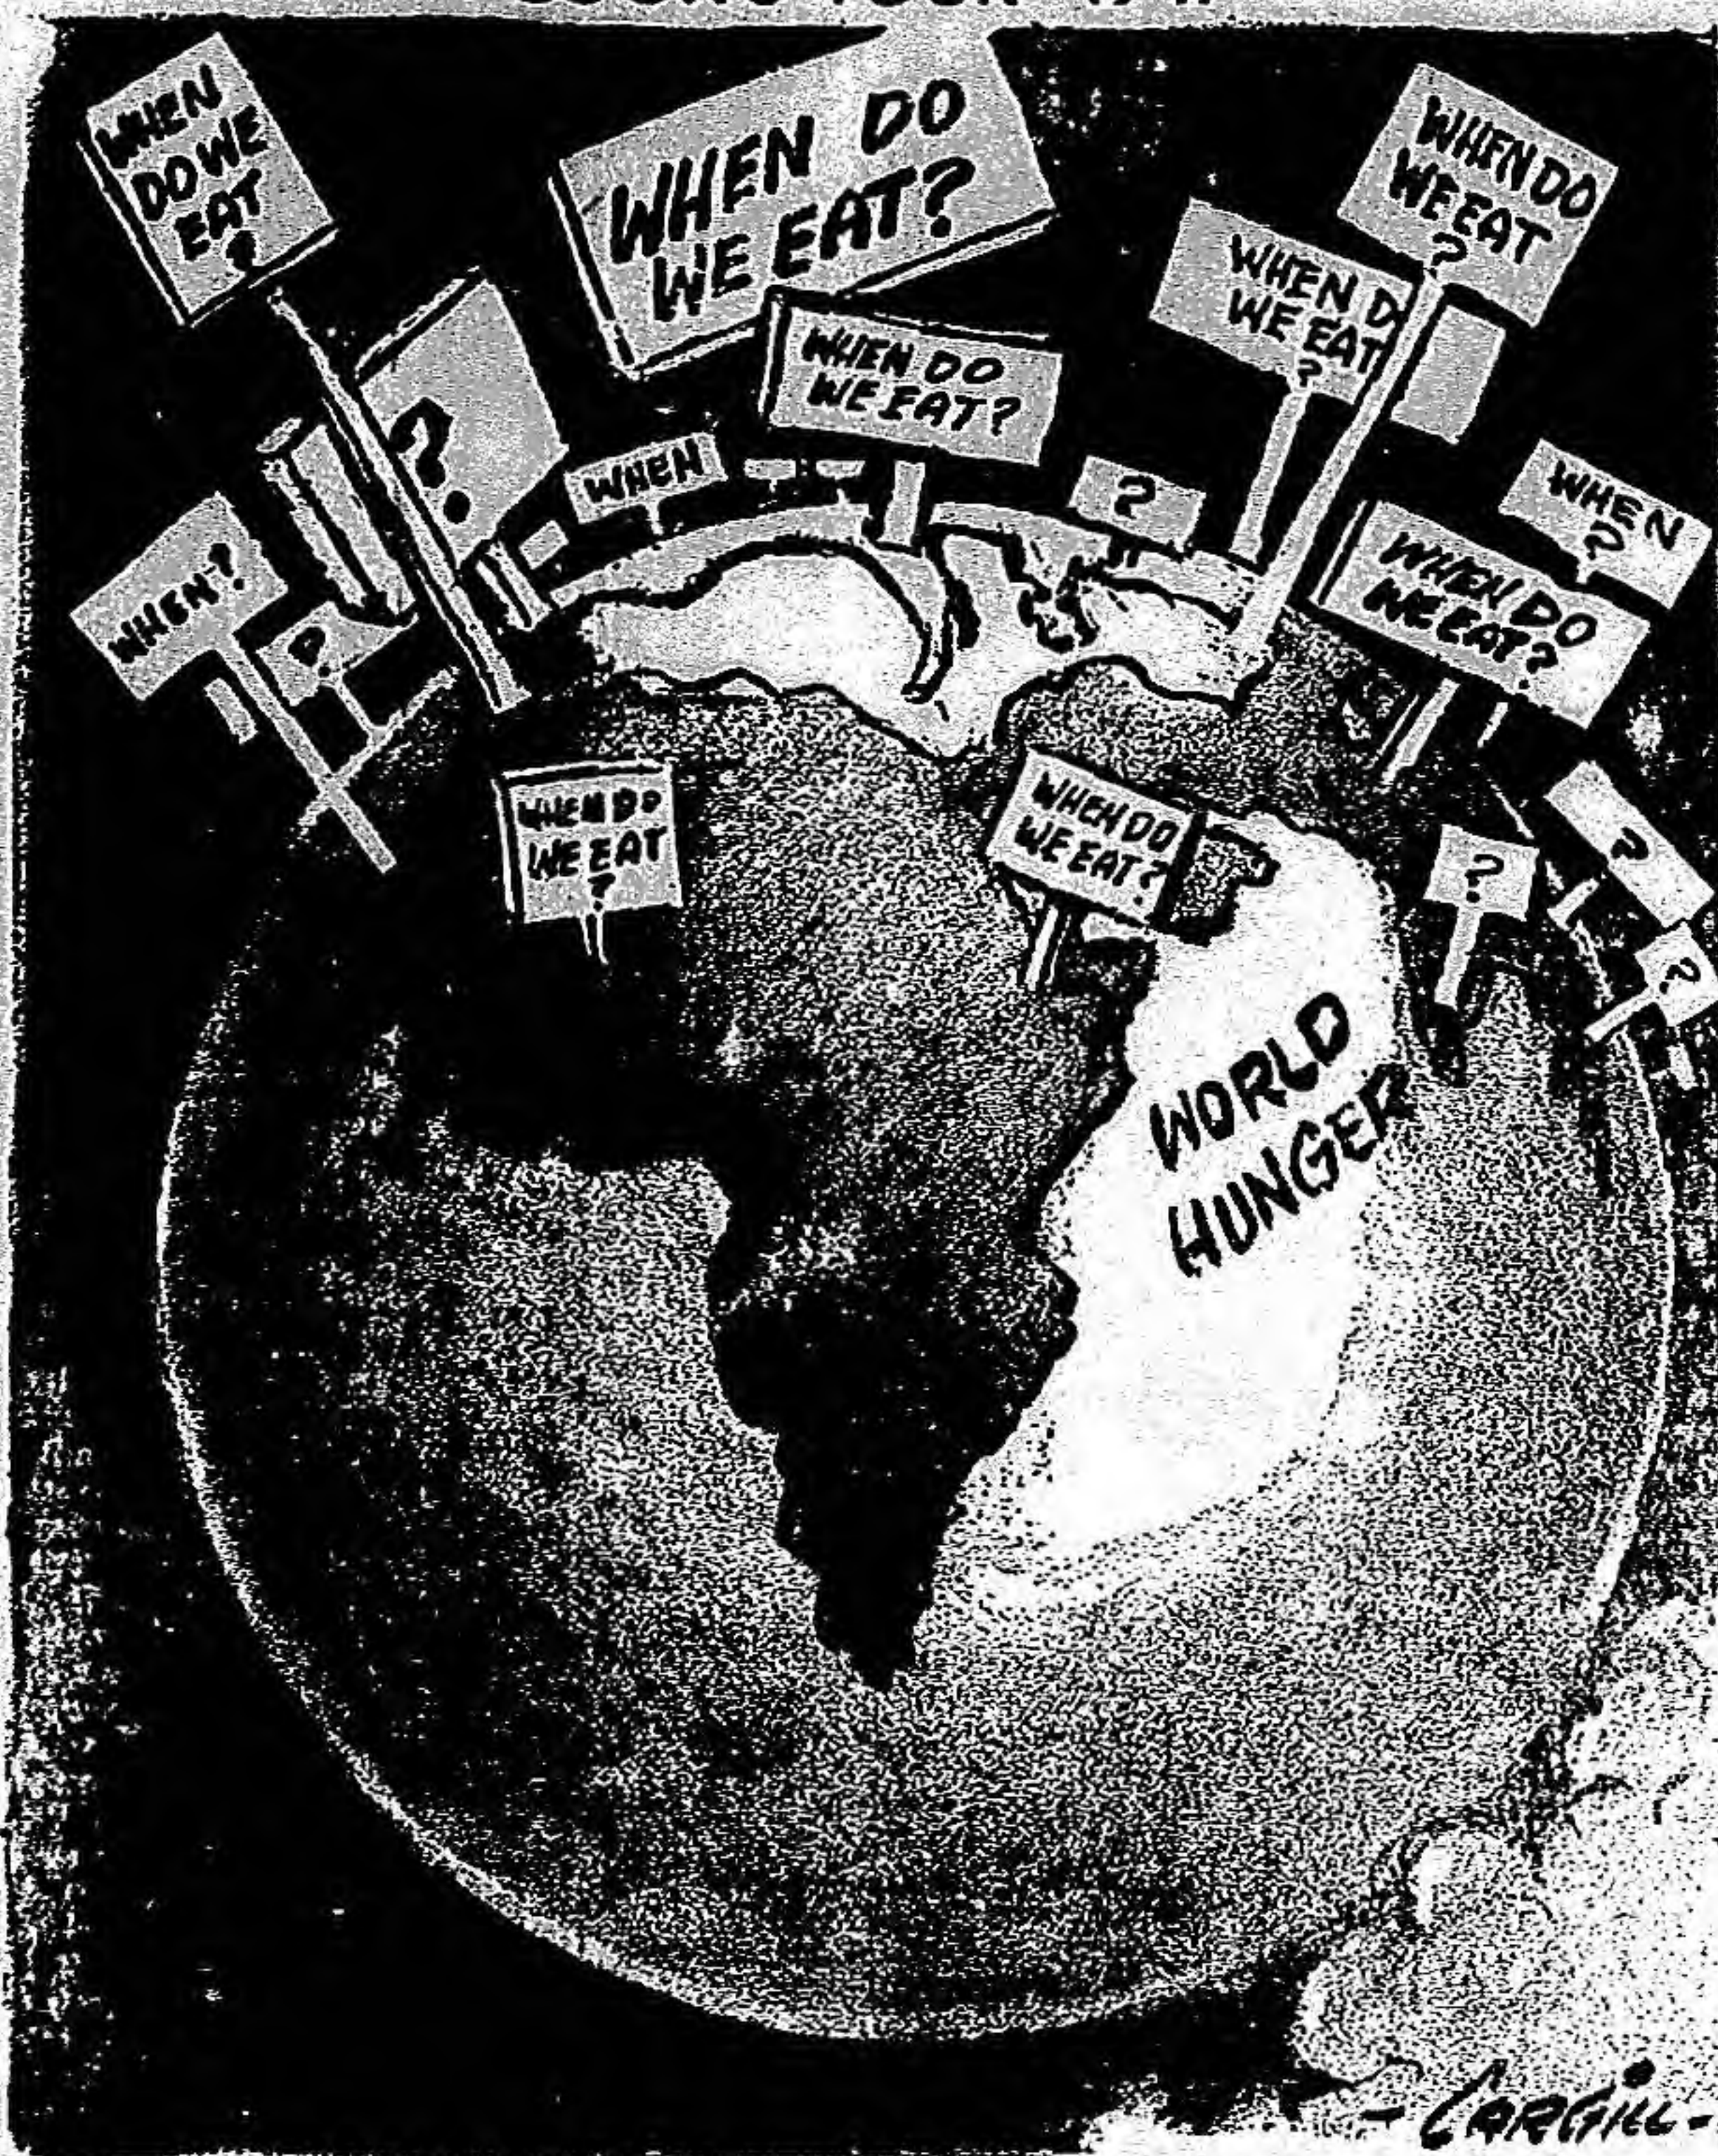

Every time the government, at the urging of the people, attempts to legislate an improved social level, it detracts from personal liberty. The freedoms we enjoy as individuals depend entirely upon the responsibilities we are prepared to assume. We cannot, in the complexity of our close-knit community living, make ourselves entirely independent but we can see to it that government encroachment upon personal liberties is halted by accepting the responsibilities that go hand in hand with our liberties, by self-help instead of government-help.

A Change Is Needed

As parliament gets underway, the ineffectiveness of Hon. John Bracken as a leader of the opposition becomes increasingly more evident. Whatever other virtues he may possess, he has done little to capture the imagination and the support of the people. Despite the high-powered campaign to glorify the leader of the opposition, Mr. Bracken remains for most a political nonentity. Indeed, the saying is that Mr. Bracken's only contribution to the fortunes of the conservative has been the addition of the word "progressive" to the party banner.

Adherents of all parties will regret the lowered prestige of the opposition party of recent years. Two-party government to be effective, requires two strong parties. When the opposition party is so lacking in leadership, it fails its function as a satisfactory critic of the government and the country suffers. If the Progressive Conservative party is to ever be revived, a complete overhaul of leadership and policy is needed. The party would be better off if instead of postponing the inevitable, its members recognized the need for a change and made it now.

COOK'S TOUR-1947

On Second Thought

By The Editor

With Christmas less than two weeks away, the stores of Newmarket and Aurora have taken on a festive appearance with colorful window displays. It's worth a stroll despite the cold and slippery weather just to see the brightness of the shopping centres.

The major business event of the week, of course, is the opening of the new Loblaw store. The building embodies plenty of suggestions for the merchants who may be thinking of renovating their shops. These big windows let in lots of light and act as an advertisement for the store, permitting the passer-by a clear view of the merchandise.

Incidentally, the opening of the new store with its great expense is an indication of faith in Newmarket's future. Obviously, the Loblaw people aren't creating a "super market" with all its expense and heavy investment to make a pleasant sight for Main St. Loblaw's must have scouted their market in the district, established the potential growth of business in this area, before making the move.

Those businessmen who are inclined to put their trust in the assumption that the business will "always be here" could do well to take a leaf from the Loblaw book. The business may "always be here" but you have to put in a little individual effort to start it coming your way and keep it coming.

It's a heartwarming thing to see those Good Samaritans of Newmarket's Main St. lean their shoulder to a car struggling up the hill after a snow fall. All most of them get out of it is snow in their faces and no thanks as the driver can't stop, once started. It's evidence of a bit of thought for the other fellow. Nonetheless, on behalf of the Samaritans, a prompter sanding of Main St. would make life less arduous for them.

FREELY TRANSLATED

An Aberdonian on a visit to a friend in London overstayed his welcome. It was getting toward Christmas and his host thought a kindly hint would have the desired result.

"Don't you think," he said, "that your wife and family will want you to be with them at Christmas?"

"Mon," replied the Aberdonian, "I believe you're right. It's rare thoctful o' you, I'll send for them."

THE SHEEP AND DOG PROTECTION ACT

(Stouffville Tribune)

The statement was made at Markham twp. council meeting that dog tax collection was meant to cover loss paid in claims for animals killed or injured by dogs. The correctness of this claim is not too well established.

We believe dog tax was first imposed for the purpose of restricting the number of dogs. Just think of how many such animals some people would harbor, if they did not become liable for taxes on each canine. There would be more dogs than people in a place like Stouffville, and the situation would be intolerable.

It is a mistaken idea that the collection of dog tax was started for the purpose of setting up a fund with which to meet sheep damages. In fact dog taxes were imposed for years before an act came into force to compensate farmers for loss by reason of their flocks being attacked by dogs.

The tax on dogs was started for the sole purpose of curbing the number of animals and for no other reason. The city of Toronto collects dog tax and who would suggest the tax is gathered for the purpose of paying sheep claims? It has long been an erroneous impression placed on dog taxes by too many township officials.

"TO TURN HIM DOWN"

(The Record-News, Smith's Falls)

We heard a young lady, in conversation with another young damsel on the street, make this statement the other day: "I turned him down." We did not hear her reason. We began to wonder where or when the phrase "to turn him down" originated, so began a little research. There is the possibility that the phrase derives from the custom of turning down an empty glass when no more drink is wanted—but a more direct antecedent is the "courting mirror" used in colonial days—a small hand mirror used by bashful swains to help them propose. The young man would place a "courting mirror" face upwards on a table before his sweetheart. The young lady then knew he wished to marry her. If the answer to his proposal of marriage was "yes", she would smile at his image in the mirror. But if it were "no", she would turn the mirror—and therefore his image—face down. Thus she "turned him down". Today, a girl has simplified and streamlined the procedure—all she does now is to say, "Scram, Bub".

AT THE U.N. . . A DANISH COMMENT

Gleanings From Weekly Press

Items of Canadiana: At Red Deer, Alta., the Advocate draws a big headline as 27 divorce cases appear on the Supreme docket there . . . Pictou, N.S., produces the champion gardener, John L. Scammell, who from a piece of land 45 ft. by 16 ft. harvested: 9 squash, 4 pecks cukes, 17 pecks tomatoes, 500 head lettuce, 4 peck string beans, 5 lbs. sead beans, 2 pecks spuds, 2 pecks turnips, 102 lbs. carrots, 14 mangels . . . The Rosetown, Sask., Eagle, records that the two daughters of Thos. McLaughlin of Glenellen, aged 12 and 6, on horses ran down two coyotes and were in at the kill . . . starting early is Lynda Lou Nicholson of Estevan, Sask., who at three months was up for her first plane ride with her parents, who are keeping a logbook of flying time for her for the future when she is ready to take lessons . . . it's moving day in Virden, Man., where R. Cockbill decided to build a house. When it was completed they moved in; then the L. H. Lacey's who were living in a converted store on Nelson street moved into the house vacated by Cockbills.

The store where the Lacey's moved from was rebuilt and renovated, so the Nu-Art Beauty Salon moved from their location next the Royal Bank to the new shop. This made it possible for Ted's barber shop to move into the building vacated by the beauty salon, which had been purchased by Mr. Treloving . . . Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pasenko of Peachland, B.C., built themselves a 37-foot trailer with four rooms which can all be bedrooms, and started off for California . . . Remembrance Day — residents of Wasada, Man., remembering drought years when Dauphin sent vegetables to the dried out areas, reciprocated by sending a load of vegetables to the district for those flooded out this year.

Reports the Grenfell, Sask., Sun, ament a meeting down the line near there. The speaker tried to resuscitate bored and sleepy audience with "now I pause to ask myself one final question." A voice from the back of the hall cried, "you'll not get an intelligent answer."

The Peace River Record-Gazette is registered because less than 300 people turned out to a meeting at which a national leader of a political party turned out there, opining that had it been a top figure in the sports world no hall big enough to accommodate people would have been available.

The belligerent Maple Creek News (when it comes to spouting politicians) always has a good comeback, and here's a good example: . . . Socialist speakers are given to ranting about the down-trodden Westerners forced out of their homes by the grasping mortgage and life insurance companies. We have lived around here for many years and we do not know of a single family thrown out into the streets of the town, or a single farm family chucked out into the road allowances by these greedy monsters. We have plenty of C.C.F. partisans in and around Maple Creek. From them we would be glad to learn of specific families put out of their homes by these alleged rapacious companies. Any person can use a wealth of words to pull the old sob stuff, but facts, not gab, is what tells the correct story.

To the point is the Printed Word with this observation: "The Communists must find it difficult to convince the average Canadian that he or she is having a rough time. At any rate, the theatre, the race tracks, the beer parlors and all the spots for not really essential spending are hard put to it to find room for their patrons."

Another publication has figures to indicate that this nation is hardly suffering from a terrible shortage of purchasing power, owing to low incomes . . . points out that in 1946, the Canadian people spent $1.9 billion on food, compared with $1.7 billion in 1938 on clothing, $1.0 billion in 1946 as compared with $419 million in 1938; on household operations and utilities, $903 million in 1946 compared with $717 million in 1938; on tobacco and alcoholic beverages, $803 million in 1946, compared with $264 million in 1938.

Clipped, but good. The happy couple left the wedding, were photographed, with proofs being promised in a few days. But the photographer got his prints mixed. When the envelope was duly opened by the bride inside were several studies of a baby lying on a rug, with the inscription on the back of the prints: "Please state clearly which size you want—and how many."

At the town council meeting on Monday night, the reeve placed on the table the plans for the new municipal and fire hall on the corner of Main and Millard Ave. They call for a two-story brick building with basement 53' x 60', frontage on Main St., having in the centre the soldiers' memorial. Plans will be on view at the nomination meeting in the town hall.

There should be a large gathering of men and women at the nomination meeting in the town hall this Friday. Reeve Keith will speak on the proposed municipal hall and soldiers' memorial. It may be that terms will be placed before the meeting regarding the proposed new factory and if considered favorable, a vote will be taken.

If 20 more would do likewise it would be done. Who's next?

Several of our exchanges had a paragraph in last week, stating that the nomination this year would be shorn of much of their excitement by the change in the law, which compels nominations to be made in writing. We think the proposed change a very desirable one, but unfortunately it does not come into effect until December 31, 1897, four days after the nominations are held.

Hi-Lights of N.H.S.

By ELAINE ROBINSON

Here I sit racking my brains to find something to talk to you about. The school is very unexciting these days. It seems almost impossible for everyone to be so serious. Everyone is going around with a long face brooding over you know what.

The main feature of the week was the Christmas dance, sponsored by the Literary Society.
The dance was wonderful. The assembly hall really looked sharp with the usual decorations of Christmas hung all around. The music was by Don Gilkes' orchestra.

No Christmas dance would be complete without a tree and St.
Nick. Yes, we had both of these.
Santa was in rare form when he dropped in to say "hello". The teachers must have been very good lately because they received presents and its only December 12.

After Santa left, a small-size floor show came into action.
Miss Bongo Wongo startled everyone with the statement that she did not want to see civilization. From the way she looked (she had a terrific "grass" skirt made from paper), I don't think that civilization would want her.
Miss Bongo Wongo kept her identity secret. We should call her the "mystery girl" of N.H.S.
Congratulations, Miss Bongo Wongo. Five girls, Joyce Porter, Ruth Mary Winch, June Alder, Lee McKenzie and Phyllis Rye, sang a double trio. Doris Pollock was absent. The girls are all students of N.H.S. with the exception of one who is an ex-student.

A delicious lunch was served and then more dancing ended the terrific dance. Congratulations, kids, you did a swell job in making the dance a success.

DECEMBER DOTS AND DASHES

Bill Thoms, who retired from active playing days last year following a year of ill health, and thus ended chapter one of his sports career after 19 straight years of plays from junior in Newmarket to the top in N.H.L., has entered chapter two of his career. Refereeing and coaching were pleasant enough but Bill gave signs of his intentions as he tried out his physical condition with Newmarket Hoffmans against Barrie in an exhibition game last month.
Now he has signed with Mahers of the T.H.L. major series at Varsity arena and the presence of "Sweet William", both as a player and assistant coach, has resulted in the shoemen coming off the floor to battle all and sundry.

Thoms had a chance to coach Guelph Biltmores but turned it down. He'll still do some refereeing, but if he's to play for Newmarket Hoffmans, the canaltown team will have to be elevated to A as mercantile players cannot perform in the B series. Truth to tell, the Newmarket team is likely to play A for two reasons: securing of Thoms and whatever reinforcements may be needed and to get away from the nightmare of playing against Markham Millionaires who will remain in B and of obtaining an attractive grouping with Barrie, Collingwood and Orillia. It should be known, perhaps, by the time this reaches print, if that grouping is arranged. Gravenhurst and Penetang in B have always been included in this group and it may be the powers-that-be will not heed the suggestion.

Just as a reminder that the one who has the mostest of the bestest generally has no trouble in getting more of same, Markham Millionaires has added to its roster Bert Baker, ex-Navy player and last year with Todmorden Legion. Baker is a right winger and should fit into the plan of things nicely. More are being tried out as the southerners definitely have their sights trained on an O.H.A. title. Grimsby, which took them in the finals last year, need not be feared as Hamilton Pats and Brantford Redmen of the senior O.H.A. have absorbed their best players. Incidentally, Markham had a mystery play on their hands a few weeks back as their new sweaters were stolen and after being out of sight for a week, turned up in a cottage near Whitby none the worse for wear.
Ernie Lawrie and the boys heaved a sigh of relief.

Toronto Diggins, a former T.H.L. team, is rumored as likely O.H.A. starters at Richmond Hill in the intermediate group and they are reputed to have a strong line-up available. Ken Walls of the Barrie Examiner told us last week that he had watched Aurora juniors in practice along with other Barrie experts and the Aurora club was head and shoulders above all junior teams practicing at Barrie and with the lineup in hand, definite title threats.
Ken has been looking at hockey teams for a good many years and we respect his opinion highly. Manager Simmons and coach Capell can be expected to deflate any exalted opinions the Aurora kids may have of their ability.

Mutt Collings has been named as coach of Bradford O.R.I.A. senior entry with George Carson as assistant. Will it be a playing coach? That's the $64 question. Bradford has a strong team ready to go to town and with such fellows as Art Kneeshaw, Art Evans and Harold Bray on the executive, they'll not lack for support.
Tony Wolfe, last year with Hoffmans, Bill Stevens with the same club and possibly Joe Megani will be on hand for duty. From other years will come the Skaberniekey brothers, Lloyd Houghton, George and Jim Church, Irwin Collings, with ex-juniors Motta, Lotta, Kuhl, Carter, B. Collings and minor leaguers McEvoy, Harvey, Turner, Giffen and others being on hand. It is hoped to have a juvenile section in O.R.I.A. as well with Beeton Tottenham, Schomberg, Stroud, Bradford and Thornton entered.

Stouffville juniors are definitely counting on using Jimmy Taylor, last year and the year before with Sutton Greenshirts in intermediate, Doug Ross, the Mount Albert flash, and Bruce Mc-Millan, another northerner. Coach Ike Harper has had the following three forward lines, galloping like scared jack rabbits: (1) Jim Taylor, Polly Minton and Keith Jewitt; (2) Ben Sellars, Doug Ross, Bruce McMillan; (3) Bill Mabett, Gordy Lewis and Doug Burkholder. Those three lines are mighty potent and Taylor should surpass Pascoe's efforts of last season playing with boys of his own age. Lyall Petch, baseballer with Milliken-Stouffville-Markham and with Markham junior hockeyists last winter, has also joined the Stouffville team and once he rounds into shape he should have no trouble catching a place on the team. Jack Atkinson at the weekend had not made up his mind as to where he would play.
Manager Leonard Simmons and the Aurora executive, irked by what was alleged to be "unfair pressure" being brought on the big defenceman by Stouffville executives, indicate that the question of a release from the Aurora club which is a "must" on the agenda if Atkinson is to leave Aurora, may be difficult to hurdle. Aurora wants Atkinson and feel that left to his own decision, he would play with the Co-ops and the press release from Stouffville suggesting that Stouffville, like Aurora, has been leaving the matter strictly to Atkinson's own volition is so much eyewash. The case may yet go to the O.H.A. executive, Aurora hopes not, and that Atkinson will choose Aurora.

THE MAD, MERRY WHIRL

Allston voters approved a new rink at 269-155, at the polls.
Cobourg will have artificial ice by an approval of 853-383. Norwich and the adjoining townships will have a new rink too. Port Perry will be without ice this year as the ice igloo at the Port has been condemned for public use. Collingwood has turned over the operation of the arena to the Canadian Legion this year, and meanwhile plan an artificial plant. Woodstock by a majority of three to one went heavily for a new winter sports structure. Bob Case produced ice this year two weeks earlier than usual to the delight of Aurora kids and Aurora hockeyists. Where is that argument for public operation as against private interests? Forty-two kids turned out as candidates for the Aurora juvenile hockey club last Thursday night, and those in charge are going to have a tough job weeding out the candidates.

The voters went for a fine group of sportsmen throughout the district in the recent balloting and nominations. Charlie Evans was acclaimed as reeve of Bradford and may be next year's warden in Simcoe county; Dodge Collins and Vic Connors both won council seats. Joe Spillette and Frank Bowser won the approval in canaltown by a heavy vote, and at Aurora Jack Offord, bossman of the Aurora Cycling club, and Dr. C. J. Devlin, president of the Aurora Co-ops, secured school board seats. Mo Hines, well-known softballer, and C. W. Poncher, prominent bowler made the grade for council seats at Barrie. Duff Romney, of the Victoria Square hockey club and father of the Romney boys, was acclaimed deputy-reeve in Markham township with Win. Timbers, veteran plow-man, heading the council slate. Frank Gulderyell, hockey enthusiast, is "in again" at Sutton West; Cecil Mahley ran second to Tom Taylor in the Hill council poll, with ex-baseballer Wes Middleton also returned. Dore Channey, bowler and curler, headed the school board contest. Saunders Findlay, veteran Thornhill sportsman and father of Nels Findlay, returns as village commissioner at Thornhill. These are but a few who in the past have made a magnificent contribution to the sports whirl and were not forgotten by those who visited the polls.

Magistrate Douglas Webster, who presides over the York county family court and is one of the best known figures in the county, is the new president of the Weston Lawn Bowling club. County treasurer Wilbert John Stuart, ye olde race horse owner, football backer, scholarship donor, and merchandiser de luxe, gave forth with his annual Christmas party at Markham on Saturday.

Building Fund Drive
Scheduled Early in '48

Aurora—Early in 1948 the opening gun will be fired in the Aurora branch 385 Canadian Legion building fund program.
With over 200 members and many more veterans in the district to call on, the Aurora branch has been quartered in the Aurora armory but the need for a club house is more apparent than ever and the branch is purchasing a lot on Yonge St., south of Lorne Cousins' property, upon which will be erected a club house.
Plans are being completed for the building and the Legion, if present hopes materialize, will be able to provide needed facilities for the community organizations which now find it difficult to hold functions in suitable quarters. The trustees of the Legion hall are Dr. C. R. Boulding, John Sisman, Stanley Walker, Leslie Steadman and Norman Bretz.

READY TO HELP

names of needy veterans and their families or veterans in hospital are requested to advise T.

Aurora branch has voted the sum of $5 a child for the family of deceased veterans.

Golden Glow Attends Loblaws' Opening

By GOLDEN GLOW

Surely Thursday, Dec. 11, was Ladies' Day in Newmarket just as Saturday was Children's Day when Santa Claus came to town.
We women all thought Santa Claus must have come Thursday when we saw all the goodies, long absent from store shelves, that we found when we invaded Loblaws' "brand-new, streamlined, super-food market" on Main St South in their new location. Is it ever a beauty? We have watched its construction since last spring under Mr. Jack Bowser's capable supervision and knew it was going to be extra special—but I don't think any of us were quite prepared for the shining, spotless, breathtaking beauty that met our eyes last Thursday morning when prompt at 10 o'clock we all trooped down "to see what we could see."

Shopping is dear to a woman's heart, say what you will, and to shop under such conditions as we found there is certainly a joy.
Thursday evening, after the opening, I decided to write about it for The Era and Express so that those who were not down there could see it through my eyes, and out-of-town readers would know that we have one of the most modern stores anywhere on this continent. On the advertisement, it says: "You will be amazed at this new store beauty — the result of many years of careful and intelligent store planning . . . you will see smart, attractive, ultra-modern yet practical design in every department." That puts it a whole lot better than I could describe it.

The sky was blue and the sun shone as we waited for the opening hour. We were all smiling and happy and on tiptoe of anticipation — and realization came up to our expectations!
We had a gay time, the group I was with — we watched as the last final "ceremonies" were completed before the general manager, Mr. Whyte, unlocked the door and we were admitted. But before we go in I want to give you a little picture of what we saw as we waited. The entrance door is at the north side, and the window in the doorway curves around, and many were the exclamations of pleasure as the women gathered and got their first view of it.
The long stretch of plate-glass, and then the graceful curve to the door. And it is all shiny white enamel inside with the dull silver of mono-metal. The same metal is used for the window casing with black tile-like material. A tiny little chap beside us was admiring himself, and making faces at himself, all unconscious of the fun we were taking watching him, for that black material is like a lookingglass.

Smiling Employees

We watched through the window as the employees took their places, all in their white uniforms. The girls all wore lovely little corsages — and there were huge baskets of beautiful mums everywhere. Flash-light photos were taken, and I am sure they will be splendid pictures. Just inside the door, raised up several steps against the north wall, is the manager's office, and Mr.
Whyte was there, looking pleased and proud, as the pictures were taken. And why not, indeed, to be manager of such a wonderful store would make anybody's heart glad.

But come on in. Mr. Whyte unlocked the door and we went in to be greeted by the clerks from the former store, who are all there, and all looking so pleased and proud too. There was quite a staff, and I assure you it was needed. I think more than half of the feminine portion of Newmarket was there waiting for 10 o'clock — and then the started. Smiling assistants offered us new wire baskets, and asked did we want a carrier, a cute little "baby carriage" as one woman said, but it is a carrier with room for two baskets. One of the Toronto men who was there for the opening (There were quite a few, and quite a few girls as well) showed me a carrier with a jolly little seat at the back in which to carry Junior as you go around, a gay little seat painted red. Won't the youngsters think it fun?

Metal railings guide you towards the south as you go in.
Just inside the railing we find check-in counters with a young lady at the cash register, and her helper beside her. The counters are mono-metal in the same gray shade I spoke of. At the end of each, where you start up towards the check-in girl, is a sliding gadget into which another helper puts your purchases — they are slid off and the affair goes back for the next customer's purchases.

The vegetables and fruit display with the slanting mirrors above makes you think you see double. Half-way down the south wall, I stopped to investigate an opening and there was a little escalator that you can reverse which carries parcels up and down from the basement.
What a wonderful invention — and how it must save steps and strength as well.

The meat counter is along the east wall and beside it, in the refrigerator show cases, are the dairy products. Such a lot of varieties of cheese. I hadn't time to count them, but some day I will. There were piles of shortening, and we all could have 2 lbs. Fancy that after all the months of shortages. The centre of the store has "island counters" with both sides available for different supplies. One had tins and tins of all those nearly-forgotten brands of delicious English and Scotch-style biscuits — and past them were dried fruits, even preserved ginger. No wonder the women were delighted. There was a huge pyramid of sock-eye salmon.

Is it any wonder the eyes of the shoppers sparkled as they cried out to each other, "Look what I have — come and get some" and so on? We bumped into each other with the new wire baskets, but we only laughed; somebody would barge into you with a basket carrier and apologize saying, "I haven't got used to this yet." It was a gala occasion with the beautiful flowers making a splash of color in the white and silver surroundings. One woman said to me "Oh isn't it perfectly beautiful, I really felt as if I should take off my galoshes!" Another one said "They have everything from soup to nuts." It didn't take much to make us laugh. It was a jolly house-warming.

I dropped in again on my way home from a meeting at the parish hall in the afternoon, and was talking to Mr. Whyte for a minute — he was still smiling, as were all the clerks. "Tired but happy?" I asked, and he admitted it had been a wonderful day but added "I'll get a good sleep tonight." To complete my trip around the new store, I was invited up into the manager's sanctum to have a bird's-eye view of the whole store by the young lady who was in charge there while Mr. Whyte was greeting his old customers and welcoming new ones. That was an eye-opener! If I thought it all beautiful from the ground floor, I sure got a splendid extra special view from up there.

The lighting is magnificent — indirect lighting and spot lighting over the fruit and vegetables, in fact, all around the walls, while the ceiling has many lights like so many stars set in the ceiling. It was as warm as summer and I asked one of the boys about it. He showed me two small affairs near the ceiling, one near the front door, and that is the heating system. But don't expect a mere woman to understand it, but it sure is marvellous and up-to-date.

Well, I guess I have taken you for a thorough tour of our new Loblaws' store, but you want to see it for yourself. I think you will agree with me, all the women will I know — and it's from a woman's standpoint that I saw it — that it is going to be a delight to shop there, and we'll claim it is the finest store on our continent.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT Wait For Judgment On Traffic Charge

Newmarket — Charged with failing to stop after an accident and with attempting to escape criminal or civil liability, Mrs.
Ethel Bray, Newmarket, was remanded in magistrate's court on Friday for one week for judgment.

Gordon Pilkey, R. R. 2, Pickering, testified that he was driving south on No. 11 highway the afternoon of November 27 at the northern outskirts of Richmond Hill and saw a child who was crossing the highway from west to east, run into the side of a northbound car, hitting the car just in front of the rear fender.
He said the car went on and then stopped about 100 yards north of the scene of the accident. He said he noted the license number and reported it to Constable Marks of the provincial police who shortly afterwards arrived at the scene.

Constable Marks said he arrived at the scene of the accident and got the information that the witness gave. He said the child, a little girl, Doreen Guest, Richmond Hill, was injured and attended by Dr. Langstaff. He said that he immediately got the address of the car owner by reporting the number by radio and came to Newmarket. In front of 6 Queen St. he said he saw a Chevrolet car and noted that the engine was warm and that a door handle on the left side was bent and that there were brush marks on the side of the car. He said he then talked to the accused who said that the car had not been used that day but after more questioning had admitted that she had driven to Aurora and then to Richmond Hill.

Counsel for the defense, Joseph Vale, said that the crown had no evidence that the accused was driving the car at the time of the accident. The accused said that she did not know why the officer had been questioning her at the time and said that she first told the officer that the owner, Lloyd Sommerville, had not been driving the car that day. She said that she did not run into a child and that she did not see a child when she was driving back from Richmond Hill. She said she did finally tell the officer during the interview that she had driven to Richmond Hill.
William O. McIntyre testified that the handle of the car had been damaged previously and that there were no other marks on the car and also said that there was some confusion on the part of the police regarding the charge when he was talking to them about the summons. Lloyd Sommerville, owner of the car, said that he knew the door handle was damaged previously and that there were no other marks on the car before or after the accident. Mr. Vale noted the possibility that Pilkey could have taken the number of the wrong car, mistaking it for the actual car in the accident. Magistrate Hollinrake said that he had taken complete notes and said that it was difficult to define the possibilities of the witness taking the wrong number and since the charge was on the Criminal Code he would make a remand of one week for judgment.

Dismiss Charge

A charge against William Over, Ballantrae, of illegal possession of venison was dismissed. Constable Ben Smith said that in the garage of the accused were found quantities of venison and deer hides, some of which were fresh.
He said the meat was bright red in color and the sinews were still soft. The charge was laid on November 29, after the deer season came to a close. The accused said that he had not skinned one of the deer, which he had had for five days, until two days before the officers had come to his place and that he had left the meat in the cellar until the same morning they came.

Counsel for defense, Joseph Vale, said that the game warden's evidence regarding the venison being taken out of season was only opinion evidence against the positive evidence stated by the accused. Magistrate Hollinrake said that the charge boiled down to possession of deer meat that had been taken out of season, that it was a question of whether meat found on November 29 could have been shot five days before.
Where there is any possibility either way, he said, the accused must be given the benefit of the doubt.

Dr. Charles Clark, Toronto, of the department of game and fisheries, said that meat will turn dark after it is exposed, the tissues become dry and the sinews and tendons become dry. He said that the chemical process starts immediately and that after one day there is a noticeable change and after two days there is a marked change. His statement was not used in the evidence.

Lawrence and Alvin Rose both paid $10 and costs for having fire arms and dogs illegally, on the Black River, Georgina twp. They said they were shooting at tin cans and wanted their young hound to get used to gun fire.

WINDOWS BROKEN

Newmarket — Two windows were broken in the King George school last week, one on the north side and the other on the west side. In both cases the damage was accidental. One window was broken by a softball on a foul tip. The other was broken by a stray football.

H. A. Jackson, principal of the school, said the children at the school have been very careful of the windows, and expressed amazement that more windows are not broken. He also said the children are honest about it when a window is broken. "The children immediately came in and told me about the accidents, and they were very contrite," he said.

Homemakers' Exchange

Each household has its traditional Christmas menus—and very few of us wish to break away from our old-time favorites. However, an unusual garnish or an entirely new first-course will provide something different from last year in the most acceptable fashion. Here are several recipes for interesting appetizers which can be used for the Christmas dinner and will also fit in nicely with some of the other entertainments through the holiday season.

CHRISTMAS CANAPE

Cut bread in quarter-inch slices and with a cookie cutter shape in stars. Saute lightly in butter and brush over with mayonnaise. Cover with finely chopped pickled beets and on the points of the stars place a very thin strip of green pepper.

PAPRIKA CRACKERS

Select any small, unsweetened variety of cracker and brush with butter. Sprinkle thickly with paprika and set in a hot oven for five minutes before serving.

FROZEN TOMATO JUICE

Season amount of tomato juice to be frozen with lemon juice, onion juice and salt to taste and if desired, a dash of Worcestershire sauce. Pour into freezing tray of refrigerator and freeze. This mixture should be stirred every half-hour. When ready to serve, beat with a fork and place in cocktail glasses. Garnish with a spray of mint or parsley. (If you have no refrigerator, place mixture in a covered bowl outdoors in snow.)

CRANBERRY-PEANUT BUTTER CANAPE

Blend ½ cup each canned cranberry sauce and peanut butter. Spread thinly sliced bread which has been cut in strips, circles or triangles. Top with sprig of parsley or dot of cranberry sauce.

GRAPEFRUIT COCKTAIL

On a star-shaped colored doily place a half grapefruit. Cut a circular piece from the centre and loosen each section from the membrane and skin. Each mouthful of fruit should be entirely detached from the shell. Place a red cherry in each centre and sprinkle with sugar. (Many people prefer salt on their grapefruit — try it, why don't you.)

QUICK AND EASY APPETIZERS

1. Crisp biscuits spread with processed cheese and decorated with sliced stuffed olives.
 2. Toast cut in diamond shapes spread with tomato paste surrounded with a border of minced parsley.
 3. Cottage cheese balls rolled in minced parsley, placed on tooth-pick for easier handling.

Guest cook of the week is Mrs. Ted Mitchell whose recipes for Christmas cakes were printed earlier. This is the almond icing she uses with these cakes. It is a very inexpensive recipe.

ALMOND ICING

Into one bowl place 1.8 lb. softened butter, ½ cup soft honey, 1 egg. Beat until creamy. Sift 2 lbs. icing into another bowl. Add icing sugar gradually to first mixture till you get a nice paste. Add ten cents worth of essence of bitter almond and ¼ lb. blanched almonds that have been rolled out to a fine powder with a rolling pin. Add remaining icing sugar until you have a mass you can knead and roll. For sticking the almond paste on the cake use a mixture of 1 tsp. icing sugar to 1 tsp. water.

Mrs. Mitchell recommended preparing the almonds the day before the icing is to be made. After blanching she dries them thoroughly by placing them on a cookie sheet in a slow oven (200 degrees) until they are completely dry. Here is her icing for topping the almond paste.

ROYAL ICING

To a slightly beaten egg white and sifted icing sugar to right consistency add 1 tsp. lemon juice to each lb. of icing sugar used.

One tablespoon of laundry starch rolled fine and sifted and added to this icing for making decorations on cake with pastry

Karen Ann Smockum, 18 months old when this picture was taken, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smockum, Keswick.

tube will make the icing hold its shape.

TABLE DECORATIONS.

Mrs. Ted Mitchell

Use a clear glass bowl with a narrow opening (fish bowl). Fill to within one inch of top with water. Add red or green vegetable coloring or allow a piece of red crepe paper to stand in water until desired color results. For one quart container of water use: 1 tsp. citric acid, 1 tsp. baking soda. Drop in about 20 to 25 fresh moth balls. They will start to rotate up and down and will last approximately two hours. To start again add the same proportions of acid and soda.

Send your recipes and house-keeping hints to The Homemaker, c/o The Newmarket Era and Express, Newmarket.

Next week—Christmas salads.

A Christmas Letter

"Wonderful weather for Christmas!" Timothy Rowan thought as he tramped home through the snow with an armful of mail from the post office.

But he was apprehensive, for in the bundle was a letter from Caroline, his daughter. Why, he kept asking, would Caroline be writing now, the day before Christmas, unless to tell her parents that she wouldn't be home for the holidays?

Noisily he stamped the snow from his overshoes on the back porch, then walked into the kitchen which was savory with the odor of his wife Rachel's Christmas cooking. Then, as Rachel approached the bundle of letters he had placed on the table, Timothy found himself shrinking from the room, fearful of how Rachel would take the news.

No Caroline for Christmas! Why, never once in her 24 years had Caroline been away. But, then, she was building her own life in the city, now — new friends, new interests. And spending the holidays with two old parents was probably pretty dull.

But how would Rachel take it? If only someone, anyone, would spend Christmas with them to relieve the loneliness! Well, how about young Tom Wakefield, with whom Caroline had once been in love, a fine young chap who didn't have a home, and who probably would miss Caroline this Christmas as much as he and Rachel would?

A few minutes later Timothy was tramping downtown through the snow again, and into Tom Wakefield's garage.

"Merry Christmas, Tom," he shouted, walking into the small office.

"Same to you, Mr. Stone!" cried Tom. "What can I do for you?"

"Well, Tom," Timothy began, "you can make a couple of old people pretty happy if you'll come to dinner with us tomorrow. You see—I don't expect Caroline will be coming and, well, it would be nice if you'd join us."

"Gosh, thanks Mr. Stone!" Tom answered. He turned red, then pale. "I'll be there!"

Back home, Timothy was reprimanded. "Well, Mr. Stone, where have you been, leaving me all alone with this news about Caroline?" Rachel's eyes sparkled.

"I know, darling," Timothy said, "it's too bad she can't be here for Christmas, but I've asked Tom Wakefield to join us. It'll be kind of nice having him, remembering how he and Caroline used to be so close. You know, I think that boy is still in love with her—"

Mrs. Stone smiled. "Well, we'd better get busy, since company's coming. Fix a fire in the hearth, will you?" And as Timothy went off on his errand, her eyes followed him, smiling.

The Stone household was a busy place Christmas morning. While Timothy tended his stock and poultry, Rachel fixed the turkey, set the table and then went upstairs to dress. And shortly after noon Tom Wakefield arrived, handsome young

Remember The Birds Golden Glow Asks

By GOLDEN GLOW

I am writing another pot pourri this week because there are several things I want to say. First, a Christmas plea for our feathered friends. Do please remember them after a heavy snowfall when their natural food is all covered up. Clear off a space and put out bread crumbs, suet, sunflower seeds, peanuts chopped into small pieces and muffin crumbs—in fact, whatever you can spare that birds like.

I promise you that they will entertain you—those small winter birds, the chickadees, the snow birds with their cute little black caps, the woodpeckers with their red heads, the polka-dotted sap suckers (also a kind of woodpecker) and another kind of woodpecker called the nuthatch. You can distinguish the latter by the way it goes up and down the trunk of a tree either head up or down.

Then, of course, we always have the cheery, cheeky little sparrows. They are as cute as any other bird and quite hardy. In late fall you see them industriously picking weed seeds—that is their natural food, but when the snow is over everything they gladly partake of our bounty. If you happen to live near a wooded section you'll see birds that live on insects searching the bark of the trees, but when severe winter weather covers their natural food then what we provide may be their only supply. If we are lucky enough to have a birds' feeding table near then they stay close to it and you get a good view of them. And, oh, what a grand chorus there was out in my neighbor's garden during the late snow storm or rather after it was over. The snow had covered the ground and I stepped out to feed them, having cleaned a place—and the sweet, vivid chorus of the birds charmed me so I just stood and listened.

Besides song sparrows you may have a flock of grosbeaks suddenly invade your garden plot. These lovely birds feed on the seeds of the sap maple trees. Perhaps the slaty-gray juncos or even a flock of lovely gold finches will come. You just never can tell what species of bird may suddenly appear. A few years ago we had a pair of cardinals in our garden feeding on some red berries on a clinging vine I'd brought home from Gambel's woods and planted in the garden. The cardinals stayed around town all that winter but I haven't had one for the past few years.

But what I want to say particularly about birds is how simply you can please them by making a "suet ball". Now that cocoanuts are again on sale, get one and cut it in two or just cut a slice off the end. Fill the shell with suet and hang it up near your kitchen window if possible. How the birds will love it!

The second thing was to say how glad I was to see Mrs. Colville's write-up about the play, "Nothing But the Truth," because for lack of space my article telling about it had to be cut down and it really was a jolly fine play and wonderfully acted by each member in it. I laugh to myself still over Reg. Campbell's part, the one who had to speak the truth for 24 hours—you could just fancy he was sweating over some of the predicaments he found himself in.

I am eagerly waiting for the Bird's Christmas Carol this week—I know it is going to be extra good. Don't think I am still writing about our feathered friends—no, no! Bird is the name of the lady in the play. I know we are all going to thoroughly enjoy it. It fairly breathes the spirit of Christmas. Then to have the treat of the Christmas carols sung by the Newmarket Music Society under the direction of Isha Goodman added to the ever-welcome selections by the Jackson orchestra. We surely would be hard to please if such a program of good things did not appeal to us.

I have a few other things to write about but I'll keep them over for another time—except when I saw dog biscuits in Loblaw's lovely new store, I thought of the chap who ran out of sets

UNION STREET

(Intended for last week)
There was a splendid attendance at the Christmas meeting of the Union Street Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. Archie Sedore on Thursday, Dec. 4. The roll-call, "a homemade Christmas decoration", brought forth a variety of novel ideas as well as several demonstrations. An invitation to visit Elmhurst Institute on January 7 was accepted. Mrs. Wilburn Beckett and Mrs. Irvine Rose gave an excellent report of the central area convention held in Toronto last month. Several Christmas carols were sung and the exchange of Christmas gifts proved to be the most enjoyable part of the meeting. A dainty luncheon of doughnuts, cookies and coffee was served by the hostesses, Mrs. D. English, Mrs. W. Beckett, Mrs. L. Mahoney and Mrs. E. Callender. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Diceman celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on November 28 when 23 sat down to supper. All the family were present as well as Mr. Ivar Walsh, Concord, and Mr. Earl Hilliard and Miss Edna Hilliard, Schomberg. Mr. Winfred Micks was taken to York County hospital last Thursday.

Young Hopefuls

By Dorothy Muir Bowman

Insecurity Causes Breakdown
Corliss is 10 years old and not a trustworthy child. At the age of five, she started to take things that belonged to her baby sister. Besides, she abused little Lynn when no one else was around, after which she denied having anything to do with the baby's crying.

Children express themselves in various ways when they feel insecure in their own homes. In this instance, Corliss' mother spent so much time with the new baby that Corliss felt very much neglected. Corliss tried everything she knew to attract attention and to gain the limelight she had so suddenly lost.

At this juncture in Corliss' life, she was starving for the affection she had known but which was now being lavished on baby Lynn. If she had been understood and given her full share of love, she would have remained a cherished member of the household. However, she became such an instigator of trouble that there was little peace when she was at home. It was a relief to have her in school most of the day.

Five years of suffering because of a lonely heart have made Corliss an impossible person with whom to live. She steals with a vengeance and to avoid punishment, lies quite blandly. She tells tales about everyone she knows and makes herself quite unpopular wherever she goes—except among people who feed on gossip of a spicy variety. Even they are cautious and suspicious of the child because they can't be certain what tales about them she is circulating abroad.

At the age of 10, Corliss would prove a full time responsibility. She has need of redirection into channels of trustworthy conduct. Even then, many traits are so firmly established that there would probably always be a lapsing into the old ways.

All this destruction to her soul and morale began five years ago and could have been avoided, at that time, if the child had been helped to adjust to the new addition to the family.

The vicar was talking seriously to one of the young men in his parish. "John," he said, "I hear that you have been raising false hopes in maiden hearts. I don't like such behavior. Rumor whispers that you are engaged to one girl in this village, another in Little Milton, and a third in Breckinley. How can you do such a thing?" John looked sheepish as he replied: "Well, sir, I've got a bicycle."

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

AVE MARIA

Amid all the joy and thankfulness, the glamor and beauty and rejoicing, there is something omitted in our celebration of Christmas which has left me with a bereft feeling ever since I was a child. That is the fact that we Protestants give no honor or where honor is due—to the Mother of our Lord.

We talk about what Monica's prayers did for St. Augustine. We speak with reverence of what the mother of this great man and that did for their sons, but we shy away like skittish horses from even the mention of the angelic salutation "Hail, thou that art highly favored." The Lord is with thee, blessed art thou amongst women!

I have even heard of the word "blessed" being omitted from the title of a carol—"The Virgin's Lullaby"—lest it offend Protestant ears! Are we better judges of what is right than the Lord, who sent His angel to say just those words to Mary? I wonder.

Out of all the women of the world, Mary was chosen; Gabriel said that she had "found favor with God." Do we realize the magnitude of those words?

What must Mary have been to be crowned with the greatest honor that womanhood had ever known or could ever know. She must have been pure and humble and steadfast—a student of the prophets—for in her song she says, "As He spake to our fathers—to Abraham and his seed forever."

She must have had tenderness and purity, courage and vision, else she would not have been fitted to guide the young steps of the Saviour of the world. Her inspired song, that of a true poetess, showed the trust and confidence she had in the God of her fathers.

Her Son's ministry proved that her teaching and leading were inspired. She must, when He was a child, have walked with Him where the flowers grew and bade Him watch the perfection of shape and color. She must have studied the birds of the Holyland with Him and taught Him to love the great literature in the Old Testament. Above all, she must have helped Him to study His fellow men, to begin to gain the insight into their frailties, their hidden virtues, their cowardice and their courage, which characterized his teaching all through His short life.

People may cavil at my idea, but if Mary were not very specially fitted for the wonderful honor bestowed upon her, why was she chosen? And if she was fitted, then why do we fear to mention her name, even at Christmas?

It's a strange thing that when something bulks large in your own mind, you are almost certain to hear some aspect of the same theme from other sources. Just before I wrote that last paragraph I listened to a clergyman on "Morning Devotions" who said that the three principal characters in the Christmas Drama were Herod, the Virgin Mary and the Inn-keeper. Herod, with his cruelty, pleasure-seeking and indifference to all that was good, typified so many today who will go through the Christmas season without ever seeing the Babe of Bethlehem; the Virgin Mother, the prototype of all that is best in women—love, protectiveness, humility, steadfastness and purity; the

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is so generally used by women we are often asked, "Is Nerve Food for men as well as women?"

Yes, fully as many men as women have nervous disorders with loss of sleep, indigestion, headaches and chronic fatigue, and such ailments soon respond to the use of this well known mineral and Vitamin B tonic.

Legion News

The Christmas party—the big evening of the year for all legionnaires and their ladies—will be held Friday, Dec. 19. It will be strictly informal and for legion members and their ladies only. Remember, no outside guests this time. Sorry.

Something different in the line of food has been promised by the entertainment convener, Cecil Jarvis, and music for dancing will be provided by a small orchestra (no records on Friday night).

The program, which will get underway at 8.30, will feature a door prize, spot dances and other prizes.

Remember the zone meeting tomorrow night at 8 p.m., and the children's Christmas party on December 20 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Nomination night is drawing near so start thinking now of those legionnaires whom you feel deserve to hold office in 1948. January 5 will be the general meeting as no general meeting will be held in December.

The Dominion Council of the Canadian Legion in a brief presented to the cabinet on two matters of national emergency, the increased cost of living and the unsolved housing situation, recommended that they receive the immediate attention of the dominion government.

The council pointed out that the basic rate of pensions and war veterans' allowances must be increased to meet a rise of approximately 50 percent.

Disability and dependent pensions as a class are about the only group of individuals in Canada who have not received any consideration under these changed conditions.

Regarding housing, the Dominion Council pointed out that a request was made in February, 1947, to the dominion government recommending that a housing scheme be instigated to handle mortgage loans amounting to 90 percent of the actual costs spread over a 30-year period at an interest rate of 3½ percent. No action has resulted on this plan as yet.

The Canadian Legion, which has a membership in Canada of approximately 450,000, feels that until this large body of veterans' demands are satisfied there can be no solution to the housing emergency. Therefore all other resolutions from every district and provincial command have been set aside until such time as the two urgent questions of pensions and housing have been settled.

The records of the Canadian Legion Service Bureau from April 1, 1946, to October 31, 1947, show that a total of 1,743 pension claims have been established successfully and that a total of $289,070 has been paid in retroactive pensions.

A great majority of these claims had at one time been denied their initial hearing.
